A Long Record of Growth

This is a mark of distinction in the world of business. People like to buy products which have stood the test of time and met with growing public favor. It is one proof of reliability.

In banking as in business, age is an asset. It is an indication of good service through the years; it is an assurance of conservative management; it is proof of stability. This bank, strong with the strength of more than half a century of banking progress, invites your business.

Breeding and Gentlemen.

He was a connoisseur, of breeding that was superior. Yet at home was no gentleman, for he was a Poland-China swine.

New England's Fate.

Following is the opening paragraph of an article, captioned "Metamorphosis of Old New England," by Silas Bent, printed in the New York Times Magazine Section for Sunday, Jan. 27.

Abandoned New England farms are blossoming with the new life of the city. The old farmsteads are being converted into city centers, and the old farmhouses are being converted into city houses.

As we understand Mr. Bent, after reading his article, the first thought that came into his mind was that the old farmsteads were being converted into city centers, and the old farmhouses were being converted into city houses.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. G. Miller, and the speaker introduced Clarence G. Morton, chairman of the building committee, who spoke of the building of the new school.

New School Dedication.

The dedication of the new building of South Paris High School, which was held in the assembly room on the second floor, which had been well supplied with chairs for the occasion.

Albert D. Park, chairman of the school committee, presided at the exercises and introduced the several speakers, with incidental remarks regarding his own interest in the school and his close connection with them during his thirty years' residence in town.

Under the lead of Mrs. Helen Barnes Shaw, the supervisor of music, a number of the pupils were given by the high school. The program opened with a selection by the high school orchestra, and other selections were given later by the orchestra and by the violin section. There were also songs by the high school girls and by the high school boys. All of the exercises were received with well merited applause.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. G. Miller, and the speaker introduced Clarence G. Morton, chairman of the building committee, who spoke of the building of the new school.

Supreme Judicial Court.

FEBRUARY TERM, 1924.

Hon. Warren C. Phillips, Justice Presiding, Donald B. Patterson, Clerk of Courts, Fred S. Bond, Monrovia, Sheriff, Hugh W. Hastings, County Attorney, Robert G. Foss, Attorney, Woodrow Foss, Messenger, Robert G. Foss, Clerk, Benjamin R. Billings, Deputy with Grand Jury, Harold Holman and Harry B. King, Deputies with Grand Jury, Walter C. Gray, Librarian.

Court opened Monday morning with a hearing upon a second indictment of Charles F. Peterson of Rumford, based on a search and seizure by Oxford County and Rumford officials. The evidence in this case was very similar to that presented in the indictment tried the first week of the term, and the defense team but this time with a new jury. The verdict was guilty.

The sentence was a fine of $800 and four months in jail.

Albert Bellevue was Cotton's lawyer in both cases.

The first case Tuesday morning was against Ronald Paradis for keeping and depositing. This case was based upon a seizure of a "child" by several officers in which a "child" was discovered and twenty-two bottles of beer were found.
